O'Neil's Birthday.

Cards were sent out last week by a coterie of young bachelors to the celebration of the birthday of one of their number on April 29. The cards were unique, being a conglomeration of words and pictures, the latter, however, being highly suggestive of what the guests were to expect. As one of the young men bore the name Huff, the cards stated explicitly that the place for the celebration was to be "Huff House." The remainder in words and pictures read: "O'Neil's birthday, April 29. Be on watch for the Keg. No knockers can kum, but the glad mit to friends will be extended. Leave the razors, hammers and revolvers at the door. Plenty of this: The accompanying picture showed a large keg with spigot attached and a banjo. "So bring none. The Killarney quartet, augmented by the whole quartet, will render fairy music. Kum at earlie kandle lite."

G. M. Cooke's Arm Broke.

While returning from Luakaha Saturday afternoon C. M. Cooke, president of the Bank of Hawaii, met with an accident as the result of which he is nursing a fractured arm. On the road was a phaeton driven by Mrs. Montague Turner, and this was followed by the buggy of Mr. Cooke. A break in the harness of Mr. Cooke's rig caused a runaway and a collision with the phaeton in front, resulting in the wreck of both vehicles, the injury of one of Mr. Cooke's horses to the extent that it had to be shot, the breaking of Mr. Cooke's left arm, and the breaking of a rib of Mrs. Turner's maid. The party telephoned for hacks and arrived in town in the late afternoon. Mr. Cooke fared as well as could be expected on Sunday. He will be about today but will have to carry his arm in a sling for some time to come.

Tare in an Accident.

A couple of the jack tars of the gunboat Wheeling met with an accident yesterday afternoon while on pleasure boat, and both had to do a lot of talking to make matters square with a lively stable keeper to whom they returned a buggy badly wrecked and a horse with a bad cut in one of its legs. A number of tars hired vehicles of various kinds and started off for a good time. When near the Orpheum a mix-up occurred with the result that a horse attached to a light buggy began kicking and made things lively in the vicinity of his heels. The dashboard was kicked off and the horse bolted. The sailors were thrown out and the buggy and the shafts parted company at a telephone pole. The horse with the shafts hanging to the harness was captured on School street.

At the Orpheum.

There remains but two more weeks of the Elieff Company's engagement at the Orpheum and the best plays of their repertoire are still to come. Tonight Bertha, the Sewing Girl, will be repeated by special request. The play was quite a hit when last rendered by this excellent company and ought to fill the theater. Tuesday and Wednesday evenings the sensational comedy drama, New York Day by Day, a play of deep heart interest, strong emotion and relieving fun, will be produced. It is a superbly plotted drama, dealing with conditions and situations peculiar to large cities. Thursday and Friday, Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, a play made famous by Mr. Richard Mansfield, will go on. Saturday matinee and night will be presented A Nutmeg Match, by Wm. Hamsworth, author of the Ensign.

Died When About to Sail.

Just as he was to leave for his home in China, believing that death was near, Tam Chee Kan, a Chinese, died Friday last at Moanalua. Some time ago the Chinese, being sick, decided that he wanted to see his native land once more, and his friends set about to secure means to allow him to make the journey. Mrs. S. M. Damon was approached and gave a donation of $100 for the benefit of the servant, and Lan Kap and Lan Too took around a subscription paper and secured nearly $70. But the money was to be put to a different use than was expected, for death came within the week of the proposed sailing of the Chinese. Ng Choi looked after the burial of his friend and, securing the consent of the subscribers, will send by the Doric not the man who wanted to see his relatives, but a draft for $118 to the father and mother of the dead man.

Through the efforts of Captain Lake, of the police department, Hilo hack drivers will probably appear in uniform at an early date.
